Corps to Host a Public Information Workshop on May 12

May 6, 2005

CHARLESTON, S.C. --- The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Charleston District is hosting a Public Information Meeting on May 12 at the North Charleston Coliseum, Club Room North. The public is invited to participate anytime between 4 p.m. until 8 p.m.

The purpose of this Public Information Workshop is to share information on the status of the Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) for the South Carolina State Ports Authority's proposed marine container terminal at the Charleston Naval Complex. The Corps and technical experts, who are conducting many of the environmental studies, will be available to discuss potential impacts of the proposed project, alternative sites, and the access roadway alignments that will be evaluated in the EIS.

The public is encouraged to attend the Public Information Workshop to learn more about the proposed project. The workshop will be an informal meeting. Displays and maps showing the proposed project and the new access roadway alignments will be posted. Subject Matter Experts will be available to answer question and to discuss the proposed project. In addition, written comments are encouraged and will be collected throughout the evening.

The North Charleston Coliseum is located at 5001 Coliseum Drive in North Charleston. There is no charge for parking at this event. Please inform the parking attendant that you are attending a public meeting hosted by the Corps.
